

On October 9, 1978, Charles Allen (CA) had a conversation with Frank Sheeran (FS) which the FBI recorded with the consent of Allen. Their conversation as it relates to the Hoffa disappearance is as follows:

FS: (Unintelligible). You got your glasses?
CA: Eh, No.
FS: Can you read alright?
CA: No. What's it say?
FS: It's about the Hof, Hoffa thing...
CA: Oh yea?
FS: They claim they (unintelligible) I picked the guys up at the airport and then after they killed Hoffa, they turned the body over to me.
CA: Who a...(unintelligible)
FS: I ain't kiddin' ya.
CA: I ain't talking' (unintelligible)
FS: I was on the (unintelligible) because of (unintelligible).
CA: That was in the paper? Oh yes, that's from two books.
FS: (Unintelligible) It's a... it's a book review.
The two books are the "Teemsters" and "The Hoffa Wars" and they claim that the, the hit was ordered by Russell Bufalino (Phonetic)...

CA: Oh.
FS: ...and I was closely associated to Russell in the Mafia.
CA: Uh, huh.
FS: And a very close associate with, with uh Tony Pro.
Right?
CA: Yea.
FS: And... When they instructed me I picked up the three guys from the airport, drove over there and then it turned out that he hit the guy, and he turned the body over to me.
CA: (laughs)
FS: What a fuckin' bitch? Now you know I'm not the fuckin' bitch. I wasn't even in Detroit that fuckin' day. I was in Wilkes-Barre that day, and out in Detroit the 31st. Really.
